

MARIANNE CAROSELLI

Marianne Caroselli is an accomplished sculptor and painter with over 30 years of experience. Her work spans a wide range of subjects, including children, wildlife, horses, Western themes, and Native American figures, with pieces ranging from intimate tabletop sculptures to life-size works.

Caroselli's art is defined by a sense of warmth, emotion, and tranquility. She intentionally avoids themes of violence, instead creating pieces that evoke peace, love, and a lasting sense of comfort. Her work reflects a deep appreciation for life and connection.

Her work is included in numerous private and corporate collections, including Burt Reynolds, Wayne Newton, Byron Nelson, Daniel Stern, Red McCombs, and Pat Summerall. Her paintings have been widely published as greeting cards, prints, and calendars, and her work is represented in galleries across multiple states.
